

How to install the GT printer system

- Go to <https://software.oit.gatech.edu/> and click on

Click here to download software provided by Georgia Tech

- Make sure to choose the right platform and affiliation to download software

Software type: Microsoft Windows 6.1
Affiliation: Students
Search:

If you are a student having trouble downloading or installing software on a GT owned computer, contact the Computer Support Representative for your department.

- Find the printing services software and request your download

Mobile and Remote Software

OIT Laptop Printing Packages (32-bit Windows)	Request Software
OIT Laptop Printing Packages for Georgia Tech campus including Central-PS
OIT Laptop Printing Packages (64-bit Windows)	Request Software
OIT Laptop Printing Packages for Georgia Tech campus including Central-PS

- A selection of printers will be presented, select Proceed to Download
- Read the installation instructions as well as the locations for the printers you want to use. EAS uses the Laptop_black_all_campus driver. Click on the button below after you have read

Before downloading files, please read the "Additional Information" section above. This information may be required later to install, use, or configure the software.

I have read the information

- The list of drivers will be display, make sure you select the appropriate one to download

Files
Name	Type	Size
Laptop_Finish_for_x64.exe	Windows Executable	57.58 MB
Laptop_black_all_campus_for_x64.exe	Windows Executable	57.58 MB
Laptop_color_BME_for_x64.exe	Windows Executable	66.31 MB

- Run the installer to completion. After is done, you will see the Black All campus printer on your devices stack and the Pharos program on your system ready to be used.

